Rusk Clashes With Fulbright on Cuba, Agrees on Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has clashed with Sen. J. W. Fulbright's views on Cuba and has made it clear that the administration disagrees with many points in the Arkansas senator's raised in a tempest-stirring foreign policy speech.

But, Rusk told a news conference Friday; he goes along with the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on some of the issues brought up in his Senate speech Wednesday.

Thought Provoking

Rusk said Fulbright's speech was a "thoughtful and thought-provoking" one. He called it a contribution to discussion, adding "it is important that these matters be discussed."

On this last point the two were in solid agreement, for Fulbright has said his reason for making the speech was to "stimulate consideration of our present course by all thoughtful Americans."

As for specific disagreements expressed by Rusk, Fulbright told newsmen, "I do not want to get into an argument with the secretary."

Here's how the two differ on the Cuban situation:

CASTRO—Fulbright called the Communist regime of Fidel Castro a "distasteful nuisance but not an intolerable danger." Rusk said Castro is "more than a nuisance, he is a threat to the hemisphere."

BOYCOTT—Fulbright said U.S. efforts to persuade other non-Communist nations to go along with the economic boycott of Cuba have been a failure. He called for an end to the boycott policy. Rusk said the economic isolation of Cuba "has not been complete, but it has been very substantial" with a substantial amount of cooperation from allies. He said the boycott will continue unless Castro changes his ways.

PANAMA—Fulbright said the United States should take a more magnanimous position to (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

President Schedules 2 Visitors

Brandt, Italian Premier Coming

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—On an easy-going weekend at his ranch, President Johnson stepped up his pace in personal diplomacy today by scheduling White House visits in May by Berlin's mayor and in July by Italy's premier.

Mayor Willy Brandt will see the President May 18 and Premier Aldo Moro will be in Washington July 7 and 8.

Informal Visits

Both visits will be informal. No major problems exist between the United States and either Italy or West Berlin.

Moro will be making his first trip to the United States as premier. Brandt is coming to this country primarily to address the Foreign Policy Association in New York City May 15.

The vacation White House announced the visits while Johnson was in the midst of a welcome lull from pressing duties at his 400-acre ranch in the Texas hill country.

He is seeing old friends and family places, including his boyhood home here.

The President and Mrs. Johnson are expected to attend Easter Sunday church services. Since Johnson has worshiped at St. Barnabas Episcopal Mission in nearby Fredericksburg on each of his two previous trips home as President, the congregation rather counts on his showing up Sunday.

May Attend Pageant

Fredericksburg people were hoping the President would show up for another Easter festival tonight—a pageant at the fair grounds and the lighting of traditional fires on the hills around this old German settlement.

Seats have been reserved for the President and Mrs. Johnson in the grandstand, just in case. The lighting of seven huge fires on the hills, which climaxes the pageant, has a long history behind it.

On Easter eve in 1847, Indians fearing treachery in peace treaty negotiations built fires around the pioneer town to show up any forces that might be advancing on their encampment. Fredericksburg mothers eased the fears of their children by telling them Easter rabbits built the fires under huge pots to boil eggs which would be dyed with colors extracted from spring flowers.

The fires have been rekindled every Easter eve since.

May Clear Partly Easter Afternoon

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Clouds, packing rain and snow are expected to form a drab and chilly background for Easter Sunday morning in New York State.

But, the Weather Bureau added in its weekend forecast, "it will probably clear partly at least by Sunday afternoon."

A Good Friday storm and high winds marked the beginning of the Easter weekend. The storm dumped up to 13 inches of snow in the Lake Erie snowbelt. Five highway deaths were attributed to the weather.

The Weather Bureau predicted rain or snow beginning Saturday and continuing into Sunday morning.

Temperatures in the mid 30s to low 40s are expected throughout most of the state.

S. reconnaissance bomber by a Russian fighter on March 10. (AP Wirephoto)

Apparent Political Loser

Ulbricht Snubbed In Fliers' Release

BONN, Germany (AP)—Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist chief, apparently was the political loser when the Soviets returned the American airmen they had shot down over territory he is supposed to rule. In the shooting and ensuing fuss, Ulbricht seems to have been ignored.

The United States and the Soviet Union refrained from making the incident into a cold war issue.

Prestige Try Lost

"I hope the matter will now be taken off the books," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk when he first announced that the men were to be released. The United States is negotiating with the Soviets on other issues it does not want to see affected—such as the opening of U.S. consulates in the Soviet Union and establishment of direct air routes between the two countries.

Ulbricht probably would like to forget the flier incident, too. It represents a lost opportunity to promote his prestige, an opportunity the Soviets would not let him seize.

His enemies, particularly in West Germany, will do their best to make him and the rest of the world remember the snub.

The East German announcement that the two fliers had been expelled from East German territory was no evidence that East German authorities had ever laid hands on them.

A Soviet fighter shot the fliers down over East Germany March 10. They are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia, and Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, Detroit.

Soviets Take Over

Soviet troops took over the airmen and the wreckage of the RB66 reconnaissance plane. Soviet leaders were in touch with Rusk, and apparently were the ones who handed over Welch, who had been injured, to the Americans a week ago.

It was the Soviets again who apparently turned over Holland and Kessler Friday.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said that as far as he could tell, the East German regime had nothing to do with turning the men over.

Ulbricht's government is recognized mainly in Communist-ruled countries. The flier incident gave new evidence that the Soviets can readily ignore him despite nominal recognition.

Rocky to Resume '64 Quest With Flight to Coast

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller, smarting from a blow to his home-front prestige, flies to the West Coast Sunday night to resume his quest for Republican support in the Oregon and California presidential primaries.

Ahead of the New York governor lies a five-day schedule of appearances from Ontario, Ore., to San Francisco.

Leadership Tarnished
He will leave behind a sharp conflict with state legislators who tarnished his leadership image somewhat this week by rejecting a liquor-law program he had backed to the limit.

The defeat on the liquor plan stirred Rockefeller to announce angrily he would reconvene the Legislature April 15. He said he would press anew for passage of his proposals.

The scheduled special session has forced him to scrap tentative plans for California appearances April 15 and 16. And a Rockefeller spokesman said it was possible the governor may not be able to keep dates in San Diego and Los Angeles April 13 and 14.

The Oregon primary is scheduled for May 15 and the California election, June 2.

Both Rockefeller and his conservative opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, campaigned in California earlier this month.

They turned to the West Coast after losing in the March 10 New Hampshire primary to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, a write-in selection.

Six Teenagers Are Injured In Three Area Car Mishaps

Six teenage youths were hospitalized in three separate traffic accidents today and Friday in the area. State Police said criminal action was pending in two of the mishaps.

Vincent Brennan, 18, of Saugerties RD 3, was taken to Benedictine Hospital after a one-car accident about 5:40 a. m. today on Route 9W north of the intersection of Rt. 32 near Barclay Heights, Saugerties. He was reported in fair condition after treatment for cuts to the head and left knee.

Troopers said Brennan told them he was driving north on Rt. 9W when he fell asleep. He said his car left the road and struck and severed a utility pole. Troopers Fred Cooper and Craig Bremer, Lake Katrine substation, investigated.

Three youths were injured in another one-car mishap about 8 p. m. Friday on the Ohayo Mountain Road about 1 1/2 miles north of Rt. 28 in the Town of Huletts.

Taken by the West Hurley R-scue Squad to Kingston Hospital for treatment of various injuries, were:

Donald Boyce, 17, of Rt. 28,

West Hurley, the driver, facial cuts, concussion and abrasions; John Hammond, 18, of Pine Street, West Hurley, a passenger, left eye cuts and contusions and concussion, and James Elder, 18, of Nissen Lane, Woodstock, another passenger, compound fracture of the nasal bone, concussion and abrasions. They were reported in fair condition.

State Police said Boyce was driving east on the Wittenberg Road and attempting a right turn into Ohayo Mt. Rd. when his car failed to negotiate a curve, crossed the road and struck an embankment. Trooper John Turk said criminal action was pending in the case.

Two others were injured in a third one-car accident about 10 p. m. Friday on Rt. 212 about five miles west of Woodstock in that township.

Trooper Turk said Terrance Thompson, 20, of Old Forge Road, Woodstock, the driver, suffered a forehead cut, and a passenger, Paul Stolpinsky, 19, of Glasco Turnpike, Woodstock, suffered cuts and abrasions to the body. Both youths were taken to Kingston Hospital by (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

T'me for Joy in Holy Land

Optimism Will Mark Easter Celebration

JERUSALEM (AP)—This is a time of joy for both Christians and Jews in the Holy Land.

As Christians prepared to usher in the dawn of Easter, hailing the risen Christ, Israel's two million Jews celebrated the second day of Passover.

By a quirk of the calendar, Passover coincides this year with the Easter season. The ancient Jewish festival commemorates the flight of Moses and his people from bondage in Egypt.

Like their brethren around the world, Israeli Jews observed Passover with the traditional seder, a family gathering at which the head of the household retells the story of the exodus from Egypt.

In many Jewish homes, a cup of wine was left untouched in memory of those who perished at the hands of the Nazis and a place at the table was left empty as a reminder that the Jews in the Soviet Union are discouraged from religious observances.

At the Basilica of the Dormition on Mount Zion in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem, Roman Catholics will celebrate a solemn high pontifical Easter vigil tonight. The service was reintroduced by Pope Pius XII.

The basilica's prior, the Rev. Benedict Stolz, said: "We are celebrating Easter in the Holy Land this year with a feeling of renewed hope and optimism."

His comment reflected the goodwill stirred by the historic pilgrimage of Pope Paul VI to the Holy Land in January.

Frisco Quake Last Major One in U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The last major earthquake before Alaska's was one that took about 80 lives in the Kashmir Valley, near Sriniger, Kashmir, last Sept. 2.

Six weeks previously, the earthquake at Skopje, Yugoslavia, killed more than 2,000 persons and injured 2,000.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906, the only other major one in the United States, took 452 lives.

The major quakes of the 20th Century and the reported dead: Messina, Italy, 1908, 75,000; Avezzano, Italy, 1915, 29,970; Kanto, Japan, 1920, 180,000; Tokyo, Japan, 1923, 143,000; Kanto, China, 1923, 70,000; Quetta, India, 1935, 60,000; Chile, 1939, 30,000; Erzincan, Turkey, 1939, 23,000; Agadir, Morocco, 1960, 12,000; Northwestern Iran, 1962, 10,000.

The worst recorded earthquake was in China in 1556. It killed 830,000 persons.

Explosions, Fires Follow Big Wave Along West Coast

Death-dealing shock waves from the Alaskan earthquake smashed harbor facilities and touched off explosions and fires along the Pacific Coast from Canada to California Friday night and early today.

The surge caused flooding in the mid-Pacific Hawaiian islands and was noted even in distant Japan.

Drownings Result

At Depoe Bay, Ore., a wave rolled over a Tacoma, Wash., family sleeping on the shore at Beverly Beach State Park. One child drowned and three others were missing.

At Crescent City, Calif., at least five persons were drowned and the entire downtown business area was ravaged when tidal waves washed up a nearby creek and then rolled back down through the community of 3,000 on the northern California coast.

Del Norte County sheriff's deputies said five bodies were recovered and it was feared several other persons were washed out to sea. No identifications were immediately available.

Hospital officials reported that 59 people were treated for injuries and nine were hospitalized.

Five storage tanks at the Texaco Co. bulk gasoline plant exploded and flames later spread to the Union 76 bulk plant, a garage and a body and fender shop.

Losses Could Hit Quarter of Billion

Tremors Open Gaping Holes as Many Caught in Streets During Rush Hour

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The heart of this metropolitan city was virtually destroyed by an earthquake that rocked Alaska Friday night, leaving a death toll that may reach several hundred.

Buildings Topple

The quake struck here at 5:36 p.m.—10:36 p.m. EST—at the height of the rush hour. Hundreds of people were caught on the streets or en route home in cars.

Huge cracks opened in the ground. Two in the downtown area were from 6 to 12 feet deep and ranged from 6 to 50 feet wide.

In the center of the city, three-story concrete buildings—many of them quite new—tumbled or caved in upon themselves. Some were reported a total loss.

Asks Disaster Proclamation

Gov. William A. Egan asked President Johnson to declare portions of Alaska a disaster area.

"Urgently request designation major disaster area," Egan wired the President. "Complete evaluation of damage and loss of life not yet available, but information presently at hand confirms likelihood of damage which could easily reach minimum of quarter billion dollars through widespread area."

Anchorage stands at the head of Cook Inlet and as the shock and tidal waves rolled down the sound, they brought death and destruction to coastal cities.

Three persons were reported dead and 26 missing at Valdez. Three deaths were confirmed at Seward, where 20 persons were reported missing.

Anchorage in Darkness

Anchorage was plunged into darkness when electric power went off, and rescuers struggled in the ruins with only emergency lights to guide them. A fire broke out but was extinguished.

Regular communications with other cities were not established until more than 8 1/2 hours after the earthquake hit.

Damage was reported extensive in other cities. Oil tanks erupted. Fires broke out and firefighters were hampered by the lack of water.

Homes Tumble Down Cliff

Kodiak was swamped by a 17-foot tidal wave and the mayor sent out a call for help. The Navy had evacuated its station before the wave struck, and most of the residents also had moved to higher ground.

where many of Anchorage's finest homes are located high above Cook Inlet, reportedly crumbled and many homes tumbled down the cliff.

President Johnson was alerted to the disaster at his Johnson City, Tex., home, where he is spending the Easter vacation. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Tidal Wave Sweeps Gulf Ports

No Deaths Result, Losses Not Heavy

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A freakish, 5-to-6-foot tidal wave rolled westward along the Louisiana and Texas coasts Friday night, tossing boats about and startling those who saw it.

No deaths or serious injuries were reported. Property damage did not appear to be heavy.

Linked to Quake

"It was one of the wildest scenes I've seen in a long time," said night watchman O. C. Buxton at the New Orleans Industrial Canal.

The wave, triggered by a minor earth movement, started around 10 p.m. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said it could have been connected with the Alaskan earthquake "in a coincidental sort of way."

The wave varied in size as it rolled up canals, rivers and bayous but was described by the Coast Guard as being five to six feet in height.

Some roads were covered by fast rising waters and small boats were smashed against docks.

The earth movement—something rare in this area—was detected by the seismograph at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala.

The Rev. Louis J. Eisele at the college said "a wide area in this section actually moved about 5-16ths of an inch."

The Weather Bureau and the Coast Guard said they had no reports of any high waves east of New Orleans.

The most dramatic effects occurred a few miles inland. "It caused our docks and vessels moored out in the yards to go crazy-like, bobbing up and down."

Violation in N. Y.?

Guidelines Sought On Sweeps Tickets

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Police are trying to determine how New York State gambling laws would apply to persons in this state who hold New Hampshire sweepstakes receipts.

John J. McGuire, State Police deputy superintendent for administration, said Friday he had directed State Police counsel to report to him on the matter as soon as possible.

New York State troopers presently have no special instructions with regard to New Hampshire tickets, McGuire said.

But his order came a few days after the arrest in Rhode Island of a man, who, police said, had driven to New Hampshire to enter the new state-operated sweepstakes and was intercepted on the way home Thursday with 38 of the tickets.

York State law and carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $500 fine.

New Hampshire officials contend that the paper slip given for the $3 entry fee for the sweepstakes is nothing more than a receipt, not necessary to claim a prize.

Ticket buyers receive an "acknowledgment," not a lottery slip, says a spokesman for the Sweepstakes Commission.

The man charged with possession of lottery tickets had on his agenda today an appearance for arraignment in Federal District Court in Rhode Island.

In Maine, Atty. Gen. Frank E. Hannock said Wednesday that possession of the receipts did not violate Maine laws concerning lottery tickets.

The sweepstakes, approved by voters in a referendum March 10, will be based on a horse race at Rockingham Park in September.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODS ISHMAEL

TEACH ALL NATIONS

Before ascending to His Father in Heaven, Jesus gave His Apostles a worldwide mission.

He said to them, "All power is given unto me in Heaven and on earth."

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen." (Matthew XXVIII:18-20)

And in his lifetime, His Apostles carried the gospel to all the known corners of the ancient world: to India and Africa, Persia and Spain. All but John died a martyr's death.

Sons and Daughters Let Us Sing. The boys and girls, intermediate and senior choirs will be accompanied by the senior high bell-choir in the morning anthem, Sing Alleluia Forth by Jane Marshall. The offertory will be An Easter Hymn, Couper by the intermediate handbell choir. Music is under the direction of Albert J. Zabel Jr., minister of music. John E. Waters, seminary associate, will assist in the services. A creche is maintained in the choir room for the care of infants and young children during the morning worship. ## Meaning of Easter

As the Christian World celebrates Easter, and observe the most sacred day in Religious History, we may well pause to note the meaning and purpose of this day.

Christmas commemorates the birth of Christ, and Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the dead, and His triumph over death and the grave. Christ, in the words of Holy Scripture, "died for our sins, and rose again for our justification."

Jesus had said to His disciples: "Behold, we go to Jerusalem, where the Son of Man will be betrayed, crucified and buried; but He shall rise again from the dead." After He was dead His friends buried Him, sealed the tomb, and set a Roman Guard to watch it.

But on that first Easter morning, when the women came to anoint the body of Christ, an angel met them at the tomb, and said to them, "Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here: He is risen."

At first the disciples did not believe. But after Jesus appeared to Cephas, to all the rest of the disciples, to more than five hundred brethren at one time, and to many others; they believed, and said: "Christ is risen indeed." We do not worship a dead Christ, but a living Christ, who ascended on high; and is seated at the right hand of God.

Then Thomas, who had said: "Except I see the prints of the nails in His hands, and lay my fingers in them, I will not believe." But when the risen Lord said to Him: "Reach hither thy hand, and place it into My hands and side, and be not doubtful, but believe." Thomas exclaimed: "My Lord and my God."

The risen Lord reassured His disciples; and enabled them to witness boldly for Him. His living presence is the answer to our doubt; and He says: "Lo I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

The risen Christ is our hope of Immortality. He says: "I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whoever lives and believes in Me, shall never die."

Through faith in the risen Christ, we may obtain the forgiveness of our sins, and rise to walk in newness of life; and live for Him Who triumphed over death and the grave.

Sincerely,

The Rev. Herbert W. Hahn

CRIPPLING DEVELOPMENT

It is a point of moderate, if not consuming interest: Lightning comes in two sizes. Recent experiments have demonstrated that lightning melts holes either about an inch in diameter or about a tenth of an inch in diameter.

This is cited, not to show how closely we can scan the news for curious items, but to illustrate a point about scientific inquiry. It is that scientists must have virtually unlimited freedom to pursue their research—freedom extending even to studies that may seem to offer not the slightest chance of immediate practical value. For though the size of the holes burned by lightning may appear to be wholly useless knowledge, no one can say how this may fit in with other data to extend understanding of the universe. Practical advances are all based on such understanding.

One aspect of this was illuminated the other day by Dr. Edward C. Welsh, acting chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. He objected strongly to the government's policy of putting the lid on developmental projects whenever no specific requirement for the project is seen.

As a case in point, Dr. Welsh cited what has happened to a reactor device, known as the SNAP 10-A, intended to supply electrical power for large spacecraft. Almost 100 million dollars has been poured into development of this system. Yet now, on the grounds that the device is not required, the President's Office of Science and Technology opposes a flight test for the reactor.

One sentence from Dr. Welsh's remarks focuses shrewd light on the matter: "If we had required a clear-cut prior mission, we would probably have developed no airplane, no spacecraft, or, in fact, no wheel." Progress is crippled by a demand that we know in advance precisely where a scientific avenue will lead.

FEDERAL-STATE ISSUE

One issue that is bound to arouse vast sections of the electorate this year is that of "states' rights" vs. "centralized government." For a number of years, experts have tried to come to grips with the situation and have failed to find any workable solution.

In 1952, at the request of President Eisenhower, Congress set up the Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations. Two years later the commission was unable to recommend any functions of government which could be transferred from Washington to the states.

In 1957, President Eisenhower gave the same challenge to the Governors' Conference. A committee set up by the governors made a few recommendations, but nothing came of them.

More recently, LeRoy Collins, former governor of Florida, has suggested that an annual federal-state conference be called by the President. The federal government would be represented by the President, key executive branch personnel and by members of Congress. Governors, executive department heads and important members of the legislatures would speak for the states.

Collins feels that such annual conferences "would provide an opportunity for injecting fresh breezes into the stale fog which now closes in on too much of our federal-state relationships."

At the very least, they could result in a clearer definition of the needs of the American people and an indication of how these needs could best be met, whether by the separate states or by the federal government.

Whatever the decision might be in any particular matter, in the final analysis it must involve each side aiding the other to do its proper job.

The Union was never meant to be a rivalry but a partnership.

It's a good idea to check with your social security office before age 65, even if you plan to continue working. The people there will explain the provisions of the law, tailored to your individual situation.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

POWER REALITIES AND THE COAL MINERS

Joseph Moody, the president of the National Coal Policy Conference, and Tony Boyle, who succeeded to John L. Lewis's job as head of the United Mine Workers Union, are on the warpath against the Consolidated Edison Company of New York for planning to take two million kilowatts of electricity from a waterpower source 1,100 miles away in the wilds of Labrador. They argue that this would take bread from the mouths of the coal miners of Appalachia, who might otherwise provide for the power needs of New Yorkers by digging the coal that is the usual fuel for a steam plant.

Now, Joe Moody is my friend, and I care more for the coal miners of West Virginia and Pennsylvania than I do for the fishermen and hunters (if that is what they are) of Labrador. But, as a conservative who still holds to the principles of classical as against modern collectivist liberalism, I think that Joe Moody and Tony Boyle are somehow barking up the wrong tree in trying to forestall the development of one of the last great untapped hydroelectric sources on the North American continent. Their efforts are bound to hurt the people of northeastern America without helping the coal miners.

The fact is that Consolidated Edison is not planning to sacrifice any hypothetical coal-burning steam plant for a plant that is to be run on hydroelectric power coming in on high tension wires. The new Con Ed facilities, planned for the Ravenswood section of New York City on the Long Island side of the East River, are projected as a substitute for an atomic power plant that would not have utilized a smidgen of coal.

The Ravenswood tidewater site, which is hemmed in by a great metropolis, now boasts two oil-burning electric plants that produce 800,000 kilowatts, and there will soon be a third oil-fired plant adding 1,000,000 kilowatts. Conversion to coal in the area would be impossible, but it would be uneconomical, and, because of the circumscribed acreage which prevents storage, it would have to be on a hand-to-mouth basis, with the coal being fed in from barges almost as fast as it could be used up. Con Ed wanted to add an atomic plant to the Ravenswood constellation because at atomic nuclear core would take care of the expansion needs of the Nineteen Seventies without choking the available acreage. A hydroelectric substitute for the abandoned atomic project would likewise be economical of the space at hand.

Since Con Ed is already a great coal user (at its Astoria and Staten Island plants, for example), and is taking more coal now than unit train shipments make it cheaper, it cannot be considered an enemy of the coal miners. Its hopes for taking a limited amount of Canadian hydroelectricity are based on purely local considerations that the miners tend to overlook. I know that the coal miners have a good case in general against residual oil, which, as a by-product of the oil business, is often disposed of for any cut-rate price it will bring. But hydroelectric power is no particular enemy of the coal miners for a simple reason: that when and where it is used, as in the Tennessee Valley area, it tends to build up a region to the point where additional power sources are needed. The TVA territory has had to go in for a vast multiplication of coal-burning steam plants to supplement the original hydroelectricity—and on balance this has been good for the coal miners.

Whether sparsely settled eastern Canada will ever outrun its hydroelectric possibilities is, of course, a question. But if and when it does, it will probably turn to atomic power instead of coal, which is not immediately available in economical quantities. The United Mine Workers, then, have nothing much to gain either in Canada or in New York City by preventing Consolidated Edison from going ahead with plans to take hydroelectric power from Hamilton Falls in Labrador. They would be hurting the development of Labrador and Newfoundland without creating any new market for coal, and they would be encouraging Con Ed to return to its idea for an atomic plant or more oil-fired plants at Ravenswood.

The Mature Parent You Should Distrust Him

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Our boy, 17, has started going with some young people we have never met. All we know about them is that they come from a nearby town. When they telephone, they avoid giving me their last names and say, "Just tell Jack that so-and-so called and he'll understand." The girls who call won't leave any names at all. We are quite worried, but don't want to ask any questions in case our son should feel we distrust him.

ANSWER: But you do distrust him. Only half-witted parents can give total trust to an adolescent child. His judgments are too inexperienced for us to be able to rally total trust in them.

Parents have been most cruelly confused by the romantic notion that we owe the adolescent perfect trust, that our unflinching confidence in his ability to look after himself will somehow preserve his safety. It's part of the child guidance people's moonshine.

The result is that you feel ashamed of your natural and reasonable doubt of your son's choice of friends. Because of the old moonshine, you regard your doubt as a kind of nasty treachery to him for which he will punish you by refusing to develop self-confidence. My counsel to you is to examine that doubt of your son's perfect reliability, recognize its reasonableness in the light of his inexperience and accept it without one smidgen of apology to anyone.

If you will accept your distrust without anxiety, you can begin to do something constructive about it. You can ask your boy to invite his new friends to your home without feeling apologetic about your wish to meet them.

Adolescence is the time of a child's most precarious balance between self-confidence and self-doubt. If, during these years, one perfect "trust" in him permits him to choose friends or actions which get him into serious trouble, self-doubt may swamp him so that he can never recover faith in his ability to choose wisely for himself.

Unless we are fanatics, we don't even trust ourselves absolutely. We'd better start questioning these "experts" who have suggested we owe perfect trust to our experimenting and inexperienced children.

LONG WAY TO GO ON CANCER

A recent spate of stories concerning encouraging advances in cancer research gives reason once again to caution against undue optimism for an early lifting of one of mankind's most grievous crosses.

The day that a true solution to the scourge of cancer becomes a certainty, no newspaper will have type big enough to set the headline announcing it, so eagerly is this boon to mankind awaited.

Meantime, "constant alertness" is the watchword to go by. Regular physical checkups and immediate investigation of irregularities in the body's functions are the best safeguards available.

Light of Life

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Evidence is accumulating that responsible Soviet scientists are attempting to make a science out of "brain washing." If successful, their techniques will be used in Soviet schools.

The Soviets are especially interested in child training.

Teams of scientists under the leadership of a Professor Lande are attempting to develop methods that will enable teachers to "summon" the biological "defenses" in the brains of both younger children and adults.

Soviet mathematicians and physicists, in discussion with visiting American research men, say they can now demonstrate that the thinking process produces electrical micro-waves. They say they are trying to control these waves and use them to achieve specific objectives. One of these objectives is to use the "controlled mental radio waves in the mind of a teacher" to surmount the "defense mechanisms" in a pupil's mind.

ANOTHER ATTACK is by means of what the Russians call "pedagogical cybernetics." In these studies, Soviet scientists are developing models of the brain's defense mechanisms, with the aim of finding ways of canceling out "inhibiting factors"—those which resist what a teacher wants to teach and those which prevent man from using more than a small percentage of his brain.

Soviet scientists calculate the average man uses around 10 per cent of his brain. They dream of raising that usage to 11, 12 or 15 per cent.

These "pedagogical-cybernetics" men are applying to their task some of the same techniques that U. S. and Soviet scientists are using in the development of an advanced automation theory for creation of advanced electronic decision-making machines.

Some U. S. officials think Red scientists have operated on at least one human being to determine if his mental resistance could be removed by surgical means.

BY A COMBINATION OF APPROACHES, Soviet scientists now believe they will be able to produce school graduates completely loyal to the Communist system, all their mental resistance having been broken down. (They're spurred on by growing reluctance of numbers of Soviet youth to conform to Communist patterns.)

These technical men also theorize they would be able to so pack young brains with knowledge - funneled - in - without - resistance that a superior group of Soviet men would emerge. They'd like as a starter, for example, to regularly begin teaching algebra and geometry to seven and eight-year-old children.

THE BASIC OBJECTIVES of this "pedagogical - cybernetics" research were established at a conference of the Soviet Cybernetics Council in June, 1962.

These recommendations were considered by the Soviet Ministry of Higher and Specialized Secondary Education and the State Committee for the Coordination of Scientific Research, which then outlined what American government specialists call a "massive" program of experimental and planning activity for cybernetics to train the "new Communist man."

An unpublished U. S. government "estimate" discounts Soviet ability to produce uncritically loyal men but predicts as a by-product of the cybernetics research important advances in the effectiveness of Soviet education.

U. S. officials have set a close watch on the Soviet research on the chance their radical approach could produce a break-through in teaching methods that would enable the Soviet Union to get ahead of the United States.

Mt. Marion

MT. MARION—Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Myer and Mrs. William Genthner visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Dean Van Etten and family at Wawarsing Saturday afternoon.

Miss Emma Herrmann is spending some time in New York City.

Onteora Musical Experiment Is Very Successful

A unique experiment in demonstrating string instruments was conducted at Onteora High school by Frank Mele of Woodstock, well known symphonist, chamber musician and teacher.

Assisted by five guest musicians, each an expert in his field, Mele opened the morning long program at an assembly of some 350 Junior High students with a lecture evaluating the nature and role of string, bowed instruments from the violin to the double bass. He touched upon the athletic element in string playing, saying: "There are many instances which show elements in common in string playing and athletics; bodily coordination, highly developed sense of timing, and the knowledge of how to use certain muscles with a minimum expenditure of energy."

Following his talk, Mele was joined by Albert Wray in a short, lively piece for two violins, "The Bagpipe" by Bela Bartok. A trio was then formed by the addition of Mr. Luis Garcia Renart with his cello and Mele switching to viola to play a strong, rhythmic reading of the first movement of Beethoven's Trio in E Flat Major.

Mrs. Renee Weiss, at second violin, joined to form a string quartet playing two movements by Shostakovich; one a hauntingly beautiful slow movement of a long viola solo supported by the others; and the last with its swift dance-figure racing, changing in mid-movement from four to three rhythms with a suddenness that would have thrown a less skilled group off balance.

After an informal question-period for band and orchestra students, the visiting musical artists became visiting teachers. Each retired to classrooms to instruct and rehearse with the string instrument students on individual parts of the Vivaldi Concerto Grosso. Any doubt that might have existed as to the ability of youngsters to perform this work was erased when assembling at noon of the Junior High students. Tribute must be paid to Mele and his guests for their superior instruction and patience in rehearsing so effectively with the students in the "capsule" lesson. At the conclusion of the selection, Mele came forward to ask the young audience if they realized that the intricate and difficult Vivaldi had been performed without a conductor and that this was a tribute to the skill of the group.

Harry Simon, head of Onteora's Music Department, said: "Mr. Mele and his guest artists presented a most interesting and informative program. The enthusiasm shown by the Junior High school students towards

Group Replies To Letters on OCS Transfers

The following letter has been submitted to this column by Rosalia C. Sheehan of Mt. Tremper in rebuttal to one written by Mrs. Merrill Smith and published earlier this week:

"As one of the protesting parents of children currently attending the Bennett school at Boiceville, I wish to take exception to the statements attributed to a Mrs. Merrill Smith of Willow, N. Y. As one of the group of parents in the Wittenberg area who are against the proposed move that would take our children out of the Bennett school and situate them in the new school at Phenicia, I would cite for Mrs. Smith's information and for others who are just as ignorant of the facts the following factors on which we base our protest:

1) We have no comment on the competency of the new school at Phenicia. Such a sentiment would be ridiculous because to our knowledge the staff teaching assignments have not been completed, or possibly even started outside of a supervising principal.

2) We are certainly cognizant of the abilities of the teaching staff at Onteora Central School system and in no way take issue with the fine standards maintained by those professionals.

3) We most certainly adhere to the principle of educational economics in school administration and for that reason, based on individual survey, we have determined it to be one half as far in travel to the Bennett school as it would be to the Phenicia school.

4) To completely utilize existing facilities at the Bennett school both as to staff and physical setup.

5) To continue to participate in P-TA functions wherein all members of this protest group take a physical, active part in the "work" aspect.

6) What we do fear is that our children will be the 'swing shifters' of the 60's and 70's, if Phenicia is unable to populate their school based on alleged need as projected in the bond issue sales talks. Why stop at the Wittenberg-Cold Brook area for fillers-in, why not continue on into Kingston?

7) If by any stretch of the population explosions of the future the Phenicia school would have enough pupils from their own area, what then happens to the Wittenberg children... send them to the Bennett school, to Woodstock or maybe even reopen the wooden school house in Wittenberg?

"In closing, I say to Mrs. Merrill Smith and others who feel that we of Wittenberg are either wrong or right, why not spend five minutes of your time some night and attend their meeting of the school board or even the P-TA and find out the facts first hand... ROSALIA C. SHERMAN."

Three Become Senior Scouts

Debbie Springer, Louise Williams and Toni Kirk received the honor of becoming Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 172 of the Onteora District at a capping ceremony held at the Methodist Church hall in Woodstock.

Senior Scout Linda Di Salvo, assisted by other senior scouts in the troop, planned and arranged the whole afternoon, from ceremony to entertainment and refreshments. The troop consists of Linda Di Salvo, Patricia Umhey, Anne Lee Shekitta, Patricia Shekitta and Mrs. Pat DiSalvo, troop adviser.

A tri-fold on which were arranged three central candles and ten other candles was the center from which the ceremony was conducted. Miss DiSalvo greeted the new scouts and lit the three candles which signified the main parts of a scout's promise. The whole troop was arranged in a significant horseshoe and as each one repeated a Girl Scout law, her candle was lit by the preceding girls. Miss DiSalvo led the troop in repeating the Eight Indispensables of Girl Scouts. As the candles were extinguished one of the older scouts led a new senior scout to Miss DiSalvo who placed the Senior Cap on her head. The ceremony closed with welcoming words to the new scouts.

A buffet supper was served by the Scouts.

— Values in Life —

REV. B. P. GERRYTY

Counseling has now become a science in which the method of the "indirect approach" seems to achieve the best results. The person being counseled is not told what he is to do but is led to make that decision on his own. Through comments, questions etc., he is helped to come to a better knowledge of his motivations, goals, inner conflicts. The key to success in this type of counseling is the setting up of a relationship of understanding. This must be deeply experienced by the one counseled.

It has been mentioned that the one quality which, among all of God's creatures, is peculiar to man is emotion. The angels have understanding and free will, as does man, but not emotions. Animals have sensations, as does man, but not emotions. One who hopes to guide a man must be very aware of the role emotions play in his decisions. Emotions were given to man by God to help him to be happy and to aid man in doing God's Will. When man fell from grace, the emotions were no longer ordered to reason but reacted blinding and powerfully. The challenge of emotional control is a life-long struggle. The person who has achieved this is not one who suppresses his emotions as something evil or unbecoming, nor is he the one who, like a leaf in the wind, is tossed to and fro by his emotional moods. True control is had when one admits to the presence of emotional urges and then realizes to do God's Will is his goal in life as well as his guide to emotional control.

Parents are God's appointed counselors. Would that this parental role might be better understood and fulfilled, especially by parents of adolescents!

Salinger Elated, Declared Legal Coast Candidate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With a champagne toast and a yell, "the campaign is on!" Pierre Salinger celebrated the California Supreme Court order declaring he is a legal candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

It was the last of a series of developments that started March 19 when Salinger resigned as presidential press secretary. He flew to California to declare his candidacy, established a San Francisco hotel residence, hired a battery of lawyers, campaigned all over the 700-mile-long state and fought the Supreme Court fight.

"I'm elated," said Salinger, 38, in Los Angeles Friday when he heard the court had ruled in his favor and against the Republican secretary of state, Frank M. Jordan.

Jordan had refused Salinger's candidacy papers on the grounds that the ex-newsmen had violated state election code requirements covering party affiliation and length of state residence.

Salinger, who hadn't lived in California since 1955, has been a registered voter in Virginia. Jordan, despite Salinger's sworn statement, said there was no proof Salinger was a Democrat.

4 Children Saved After Car Drops In Hudson River

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A grandmother and a pair of modest heroes were credited today with rescuing four youngsters from an automobile that had dropped into the Hudson River.

State Police said Mrs. Mary Smith of Stillwater told them that the car went out of control Friday when she turned to speak to one of her passengers, three of whom were her grandchildren. It rolled down a 15-foot bank and into about five feet of water.

Mrs. Smith scrambled free from the car and, teaming with two men who jumped out of a pickup truck, got the youngsters to safety.

When a rescue squad arrived, troopers said, the men hopped into the truck and drove away. No one was able to identify them.

The rescued were Sue Ransom, 6, Warren Ransom, 3, and Grace Ransom, 1, Mrs. Smith's grandchildren, and Sharon Forte, 16. All live in Stillwater. Grace, Ransom, youngest of the group, was admitted to Leonard Hospital in Troy, suffering from exposure and a scalp wound. Her condition was reported fair.

The others were treated at the hospital and released.

ward revising the Panama Canal Treaty. Rusk said he didn't want to get into that subject because the two nations are now very close to an agreement.

CHINA—Fulbright said Red China should neither be recognized nor admitted to the United Nations. Rusk agreed. Fulbright also suggested it might be possible to draw Communist China into existing East-West agreements in such fields as disarmament, trade and educational exchange.

Although most of the news conference centered on questions about Fulbright's speech, there was also a focus on U.S.-Soviet relations. Rusk stressed that no strings had been attached to the release of two American fliers shot down over East Germany March 10. He said he was still puzzled about how the plane had gotten so far off its course.

Rusk also said he had asked the Soviet Union for more information about Lee Harvey Oswald, who was accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy last Nov. 22. The Soviet government already has provided some information on Oswald for the Warren Commission investigating the assassination. Oswald lived in Russia for more than two years and married a Russian girl.

The secretary of state wasn't the only one in the capital expressing views on Fulbright's speech.

Chiang Aide Shocked

The Nationalist Chinese ambassador, Tingfu F. Tsiang, said he was shocked by the suggestion that Red China might be included in some East-West agreements.

Many of the points raised by Fulbright received the backing of Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, senior Republican on Fulbright's committee. As for Cuba, he said, "I've never known a country to be starved into democracy."

The Republican national chairman, William E. Miller said that if the speech was not a trial balloon for the administration, President Johnson should renounce it. Fulbright and Rusk had said it was not a trial balloon.

Capital News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the new from Washington:

ARLINGTON: The Army has decided to preserve Arlington National Cemetery's last undeveloped section, a wooded glen containing ancient oaks.

The trees, some more than a century old, rise behind historic Custis-Lee mansion atop the hill where President John F. Kennedy is buried.

The Army first planned to clear the glen for graves. But because of widespread opposition it will develop an area of the south坡 of adjacent Ft. Myer for burial sites.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES: The number of civilian workers on government pay rolls dropped in February to 2,470,393, a record.

The drop of 3,153 workers marked the fourth straight monthly decline.

The figures were made public by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Government Expenditures.

PESTICIDES: Agriculture Department regulations which go into effect May 26 will require labels on pesticides to carry such warning words as "danger," "caution" or "warning."

The department issued the new regulations Friday. They also require that the labels carry prominently the statement "keep out of reach of children" or the equivalent.

The new rules are designed to provide greater consumer protection against possible harmful chemical preparations said.

Ex-Diem Aide To Be Executed

HUE, South Viet Nam (AP)—Phan Quang Dong, high intelligence officer in the late President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime, has been sentenced to death on the guillotine by a revolutionary court.

A crowd of 2,000 standing outside the provincial courthouse cheered and threw their hats into the air Friday on hearing the sentence read over a loud-speaker.

The defendant, 36, convicted of murder, extortion and illegal detention of torturers of prisoners, appeared calm as sentence was pronounced by the nine-member tribunal. The court also ordered confiscation of his property.

Dong was the first Diem government official to be tried by the new revolutionary court in what may be a long series of trials. The next trial is expected to be for Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Can, who formerly ruled the central Vietnamese province.

Dong was given 24 hours to appeal to the ruling military revolutionary council.

He immediately signed the request for mercy. If the plea is rejected, he will be executed five days later.

Dong was convicted of murdering Tran Ba Nam, a private contractor who had lived in Laos, in 1958, and Vo Con, a former deputy security chief in Central Viet Nam, in 1959.

The Diem government accused the two men of being French spies, a charge the new government says was trumped up for extortion purposes.

'Project Able' Scores

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A project to aid more than 7,500 culturally deprived pupils in New York State has made "impressive gains" in local school districts but needs increased supervision at the state level, the State Education Department says.

"Project Able" was introduced into 16 school districts in the state in the fall of 1961 for the purpose of identifying and encouraging potential abilities among pupils from culturally deprived groups and from low socio-economic backgrounds.

The first two years brought "impressive gains" in school attendance and classroom behavior among pupils enrolled in the programs, the Education Department reports.

Pope Carries Cross

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church turned today to the special rites of Holy Saturday and its prayers of promise for the coming Easter dawn of Christ's resurrection.

Pope Paul VI carried an eight-foot wooden cross in a penitential Good Friday procession at the ancient Colosseum Friday night. Vatican history has no record of a Pope ever before bearing a cross in a religious procession.

In a speech Vatican experts called the strongest papal denunciation of communism in years. The Pope condemned Communist treatment of Roman Catholics as a modern-day crucifixion.

It was his most dramatic appearance in the solemn rituals of Holy Week, and 100,000 people crowded into Colosseum Square in a light rain to see him.

Youth Faces Court

A Saugerties youth was arrested by a village policeman after he allegedly became abusive following his arrest Friday night for speeding.

Arthur J. Evans, 19, of Apple Tree Drive, was in the process of being arraigned at Freeman press time before Police Justice G. Thomas Rea, on charges of speeding and disorderly conduct. Patrolman William Johnson was complainant.

Michigan Ordered To Change Plans On Voting Areas

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's Legislature—under prodding by a federal court—is expected to move swiftly to carve out 19 new congressional districts as nearly equal in population as practicable.

In a 2-1 decision, a three-judge panel ruled Friday that the lawmakers must either re-vamp the plan they adopted last year or the state must elect its representatives on an at-large basis next November.

The judges said last year's plan is unconstitutional because of wide population deviations. Population totals range from 306,000 in the smallest district to 494,000 in the largest.

The ruling could result in a shift in the political balance of power now prevailing for Republicans who hold 11 of the state's 19 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives. Any realignment of districts on a population basis would tend to cut into the strength of the GOP by assigning more congressmen to the heavily populated Detroit area.

Gov. George W. Romney expressed disappointment in the court's ruling but said he will meet with legislative leaders early next week to determine a course of action.

Plane Reports Engine on Fire

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The Coast Guard said today a Honolulu-to-Los Angeles passenger flight with nine persons aboard reported an engine on fire 1,000 miles southwest of San Francisco.

The Coast Guard in San Diego said two long-range planes from San Francisco were en route to intercept the distressed DC-4.

The report was received at 6:05 a.m. PST that the plane was in trouble, but it did not say the plane was ditching, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard said the plane was closer to San Francisco than Los Angeles and might attempt to reach San Francisco.

Coast Guard headquarters at San Francisco said the distressed DC-4 aircraft, with its No. 2 engine afire, had "requested a ditching heading," which means the pilot was considering landing the distressed plane at sea.

The Coast Guard called it a "possible ditching."

But the Coast Guard emphasized that, at its last report, the pilot had not ditched.

"If they can extinguish the burning engine, they may come in on the three that still are functioning," a Coast Guard officer said.

onto the shores of all major islands in Hawaii. The only flooding occurred on Maui Island, 100 miles southeast of Honolulu, and civil defense officials said that was minor. A wave swept onto two small Maui towns and spread two to three inches of water over flat areas.

After hours of tension, the all-clear signal sounded for the islands at 1:40 a.m. Hawaii time — 6:40 a.m. EST.

Wave waters heavily damaged the Vancouver Island community of Port Alberni. The wave surged 40 miles through the inlet known as the Alberni Canal and poured into the Canadian pulp and logging center "like a dam had burst," a radio station reported.

The town's main hotel suffered water damage in its lobby, kitchen and dining areas. Tidal surges 10 feet high rolled up onto California's Santa Catalina Island, 20 miles off the coast at Los Angeles, and caused minor damage.

Thousands of young people rushed to San Francisco's Ocean Beach area at the first announcement that a tidal wave was expected, but the action at the appointed hour amounted to a mild turbulence.

A wave washed out a bridge over the Copalis River in Grays Harbor County in Washington, and turned over several trailer homes in the county beach areas.

At Port Arthur, Tex., a watchman for a grain elevator reported the tide dropped between six and seven feet and a loaded grain ship "bobbed up and down like a cork six or eight times."

Near Baton Rouge, Albert E. Kent was looking at the placid Amite River when "all of a sudden, water came in waves four feet high."

Further down the Amite, A. S. Lainer of Denham Springs watched the waves tear apart boat houses and ramps at a fishing wharf where the water was four to five feet deep, he said. "They said they looked down, and suddenly, there was no water—they were looking at the riverbed."

"Then the water came rushing back in," Lainer said. "I saw the wave tear up a wharf. That wave broke an 8-inch pipe."

Island Man Killed

NEW YORK (AP)—Tyrone Thompson, 19, of Port Richmond, Staten Island, was killed when the car in which he was riding struck a pole in West Brighton, S.I., police said.

Graham In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham arrives today to plan his Easter Sunday rally. Police took extra precautions for an estimated 50,000 expected to be in the integrated audience.

City, county and state law enforcement agencies are pooling their resources to prepare for a crowd which Police Chief Jamie Moore said "may be the biggest we have ever seen."

Moore said all city police including plainclothes detectives will be on duty.

Quake Toll . . .

tion. Reports were given him periodically throughout the night.

8.3 Intensity

Disaster agencies around the country were informed and the Red Cross designated Seattle as its marshalling point. Navy and Army planes in the Seattle area were on the alert, ready to carry life-giving supplies to the stricken area.

The earthquake was recorded on the University of Washington seismograph for two hours. It's intensity was measured at 8.3 on the Richter Scale. The San Francisco Earthquake of 1906, which claimed 452 lives, registered 8.25 on the same scale.

The university's seismologist said the earthquake apparently centered in the bay south of Seward, 1,500 miles northwest of Seattle.

Shock waves were felt around the world. The recording needle was shaken out of the seismograph at an observatory in Paris.

Disaster Spreads Southward

Damage and disaster spread southward. One child drowned and three others were reported missing when waves swept over a Depece Bay, Ore., beach.

Tidal waves crashed over the Washington coast, knocking out bridges and prompting the evacuation of several areas.

Some Oregon communities also were evacuated.

A series of tidal waves hit the Hawaiian islands and boats were tossed violently by freakish tides at Houston, Tex. Water surged up the Vancouver Inlet to flood the downtown section of Port Alberni, B.C., to a depth of five feet.

The first contact with the outside world was made from this earthquake - stricken city more than 8½ hours after the initial shock wave.

Death Toll Uncertain

Radio station KENI reached the Seattle office of the Associated Press at 7 a.m. EST to report that the death toll has not been ascertained, but damage is extensive. The report said several houses and buildings fell into fissures and one downtown building caved inward.

The city was, at that time, still in darkness with only a few emergency lights burning.

The Coast Guard at Juneau reported the tidal wave traveled 100 miles in 25 minutes.

Waves 10 to 15 feet high washed into Seward where flooding appeared to have caused most of the damage.

Kodiak Village Wiped Out

An unidentified fishing vessel radioed that the village of Tugayak on the southern tip of Kodiak Island was wiped out by a tidal wave and that a boat was picking up survivors.

Adak, in the Aleutian Island chain, reported no damage there.

After shocks and recurring tidal waves, as the waters coursed in and out, kept terror alive through the cold night. Temperatures at Anchorage were about six degrees below freezing when the quake struck.

The missing at Valdez disappeared when the dock upon which they were standing collapsed. Two longshoremen were reported killed at Valdez, 150 miles due east of Anchorage on Prince William Sound.

Oil tanks split open at Seward and burned through the night.

At Anchorage, a million gallons of jet fuel spilled over the international airport and residents were cautioned to stay away from the area. The 60-foot control tower collapsed and thousands of feet of runway were torn up.

A Wien Alaska Airline plane carrying doctors and nurses from Fairbanks managed to land at Merrill Field in Anchorage and there were reports portions of the Elmendorf Air Force Base field near the city were usable.

Gov. Egan held an emergency meeting with his cabinet in Juneau. A planned flight from Juneau to Anchorage had to be called off when the field in the capital city was closed by bad weather.

Downtown Kodiak Demolished

Early reports placed the death at between 50 and 300 in Anchorage, but radio station KENI said it appeared the death toll might be much less.

Ralph Jones, city manager of Kodiak, telephoned Egan that the downtown area of that city had been demolished. "Tidal waves were still rolling in, and Jones said the casualty figure could go as high as 50."

Rocky to Resume

ture deals only with those items submitted by the governor. Rockefeller aides said it had not been decided whether other issues such as proposed repeal of railroad full-crew laws or legislative ethics would be considered.

The Legislature took up a record total of 9,437 bills and passed 1,234 during the session.

When Rockefeller left Albany Friday there were 1,130 bills on his desk for consideration. He must decide by April 25 whether to sign them.

Blast Touches Off Death Trap For Three Tots

PHOENIX, N.Y. (AP)—A fire official says a stove explosion apparently touched off a house fire that pinned three young children in a death trap.

The victims in Friday night's fire were Joseph Ashley, 4, his sister Madonna, 3, and another sister, Elizabeth, 8 months.

An 18-year-old uncle escaped by breaking a window. Sheriff's deputies said the uncle, John Bouvia, told them he was on the first floor of the 1½-story cottage when he heard an explosion and the house filled with smoke.

Bouvia said he smashed a window and jumped out, then was prevented by smoke from re-entering the house.

Fire Chief Steve Dunn of Phoenix said it appeared "a stove blew up" in the house. The bodies of the three children were found huddled on a bed on the second floor. The youngest was in a crib on the ground floor.

The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ashley, had gone to Syracuse on a shopping trip.

Arson Hearing Is Slated on Monday

Hearing for Mrs. Franklin (Ida May) Bell, 30, of 45 Newkirk Avenue, on a felony charge of first degree arson, was adjourned today in City Court to Monday in order for her to obtain counsel.

Mrs. Bell was arrested after she allegedly set a fire in the first floor kitchen of her residence Thursday night. Fire officials said they found scraps of burned and charred paper on top of a pile of wood in the kitchen when they arrived at the scene. The property is owned by Mrs. Sadie Farber, of 46 Chambers Street.

Several children were in the 2½-story, frame and brick house when the fire started, firemen said.

Pilgrims Await Climax of Easter

JERUSALEM (AP)—As spring sunshine flooded the hills of Palestine this Holy Saturday, worshippers knelt at the tomb of Christ, and the holy city of Jerusalem awaited the climax of Easter.

To the tapping of silver-headed staffs, Roman Catholic Bishop Fulgencio Pasi entered the great, crumbling Church of the Holy Sepulcher at daybreak for the day's most colorful ritual: the blessings of the fire and the lighting of the paschal candle.

The frail, bearded bishop, acting for Jerusalem's ailing 75-year-old Patriarch Alberto Gori, struck sparks from a flint into a silver bowl of shavings as 600 pilgrims knelt on the stone floor. Today's ceremony was attended by many Protestants as well as Catholics.

Optimism Will . . .

around the world followed Christ's path to Calvary in solemn Good Friday pageantry. Many walked along the narrow, winding cobbled streets bearing crosses.

The Rev. Terrence Kuehn, superior of the Holy Land Monastery in Washington, D.C., led the American and English-speaking pilgrims.

The Good Friday ceremonies closed after sunset with a burial service at the marble sepulcher where tradition says Jesus was entombed.

Sunrise Services Will Usher Day Of Joyous Refrain

Christians around the world prepared today for Easter Sunday, the most triumphant Holy Day of the year.

The penitential mourning of Good Friday, commemorating the crucifixion of Christ, will give way to the joyous refrain of "Alleluia, the Lord is Risen."

Across the United States, churches planned sunrise services to celebrate the Resurrection.

The traditional service will be held aboard the USS Constitution, "Old Ironsides," in Boston Harbor and in Red Rocks Park near Denver, where work crews had to shovel nine inches of snow from the seats.

In Alabama, worshippers will make a pre-dawn trek to Mound State Monument for the pageant "The Road to Calvary." It will be staged on three of the largest mounds, which were built by Indians centuries ago as places of worship.

To Dedicate Giant Cross

There will be sunrise services at Oklahoma's Wichita Mountain Wildlife Reservation, at Radio City Music Hall in New York City, at a placid pine-rimmed reservoir in Irvington, just north of New York, and at Alto Pass, Ill., where a 111-foot cross will be dedicated.

Construction of the cross began five years ago. It's the work of the Rev. Wayman Presley, a retired Methodist clergyman.

There also will be the traditional Easter egg hunts in many communities and the Easter parades of new, spring clothes. The forecast for New York's Fifth Avenue parade was for fair weather with temperatures in the 40s and 50s.

Burn Bread in Streets

NEW YORK (AP)—Hassidic Jews, members of an ultra-Orthodox branch of Judaism, burned leavened bread in the streets of Brooklyn Friday. Before the beginning of Passover at sundown.

Firemen answered about 40 alarms for street fires after children added telephone directories, cardboard boxes and trash to the flames.

Jewish customs dictate that leavened bread and all other food not permitted during Passover be removed from homes before the holiday begins. The bread traditionally is burned.

Admits Slaying Of N. Y. Couple

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—James Vanderham, charged with killing a Sherrill, N.Y. couple last month, admitted the slayings Friday, Sheriff L. C. Boies says.

Vanderham, who had given his age at 19 and 22, also was exposed through fingerprints as an ex-convict named Herbert L. Shockey, whose age was listed as 25 in 1959, Boies says. At that time, there were warrants for his arrest from seven states on charges of bad checks and auto theft and of parole violation from a federal reformatory at El Reno, Okla.

Vanderham and his 17-year-old girl friend, Theresa Robichaud of Fresno, Calif., were captured last weekend near Austin, Nev., after they were spotted in a camper truck belonging to the slain couple.

Vanderham first denied any knowledge of the murder of John Bertella, 64, and his wife, Mildred, 62. The couple had been found beaten and stabbed to death near the Superstition Mountains about 45 miles east of Phoenix.

Anchorage Facts List Population, Principal Income

Anchorage, Alaska, the largest city in the largest state in the Union, is located at the head of Cook's Inlet, a long bay on the south shore of the state.

The city has a population of 48,000, about one-fifth of the state's total.

More than 500 air miles to the southeast is the capital, Juneau. About 250 miles to the north is Fairbanks, which has the northernmost airport on the continent.

Elmendorf Air Force Base is located at Anchorage.

Alaska's principal income is from fisheries, minerals, timber and furs. It is a state of mountain ranges and frozen tundra. The tallest peak in North America is in Alaska—Mt. McKinley, 20,300 feet high.

About one quarter of the state is within the Arctic Circle.

An organized territory since 1912, Alaska was voted into the Union on June 30, 1958. The United States bought the land from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000.

Deaths

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Clayton F. Andrews, 73, past imperial potentate of the Shrine of North America, surgeon and past president of the Nebraska Medical Association, died Friday after a prolonged illness.

TORONTO (AP)—Prof. Rivers Keith Hicks, 85, one of Canada's top authorities on modern languages, died Friday after falling in his home.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Paul A. Baran, 53, Stanford economics professor acclaimed for his teaching of Marxist economy, died Friday of a heart attack.

Local Death Record

John L. Nickerson

Funeral services for John Lemp Nickerson, who died unexpectedly at his residence, 247 Clifton Avenue, on Wednesday, were held at the A. Carr & Son Funeral Home at 10:30 a. m. today. The Rev. George D. Wood, pastor of Flatbush Reformed Church, officiated. The services were largely attended and there were many floral tributes. On Thursday and Friday evenings, many friends and associates called to pay their respects. Burial was in Trinity Cemetery, Saugerties.

Arthur Jones

Arthur Jones, 72, of Library Lane, Woodstock, died Friday at Benedictine Hospital. He was born in Brooklyn, son of the late Joseph and Ada Jones, and had resided in Woodstock the past several years. Before retirement, Mr. Jones was a sugar broker. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie A. Jones; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Lazard, of Manhasset, L. I.; a son, Roger Jones of Woodstock, and six grandchildren. A requiem Mass will be offered Monday 2 p. m. at St. Gregory's Church, Woodstock. Burial will be in the Woodstock Cemetery. Friends may call at the Lasher Funeral Home Inc., Woodstock, Saturday and Sunday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Off Key Singer Is Barred From Attending Church

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has ruled that Betty Chapman—"the type of whom martyrs were made"—may never attend her church again.

Mrs. Chapman, 41, was accused of deliberately singing off key, loudly, and making faces at the pastor during services at nearby Mar Vista Baptist church.

Superior Court Judge McIntyre ruled Thursday that "Mrs. Chapman did disturb the church in its worship and activities. Were she permitted to return, though she intends well, she would again—in the absence of change in church leadership and control—disturb it."

"The facts are sufficient to warrant injunctive relief," Earlier, Judge Faries had commented: "I have great admiration for Mrs. Chapman as an individual. She is the type of whom martyrs were made in the days of the early church."

Mrs. Chapman's problems began with a disagreement with her pastor, the Rev. Wayne Eurich, in 1960. The following year the church obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting her, her husband and daughter from attending services. They had been voted out of the congregation, but refused to quit attending.

Judge Faries earlier this month refused to issue a permanent injunction against the husband, John, 49, and daughter, Connie Ray, 22. He said there was insufficient evidence they were guilty of misconduct. The disagreement arose when Eurich refused to perform a wedding ceremony Mrs. Chapman had arranged for a boy he said was under the age of consent.

Mrs. Chapman said she prefers not to join another church. She said the Mar Vista church is her "church home."

Bush Historic Site Measure Is Approved

Senator E. Ogden Bush (R), 34th Senatorial District, was successful this week in having the Senate pass a bill that has been held back from passage for some years.

The bill provides for the acquisition of the John Burroughs Memorial Field in the Town of Roxbury, Delaware County, for historical and educational purposes and authorizes the Commissioner of Education as agent of the state to acquire the property as an historic site and making an appropriation to the Department of Education to carry out this purpose.

Senator Bush stated that the federal government had recently declared the memorial as a National Historic Site through the Department of the Interior.

The grave of John Burroughs, famed naturalist, who once lived at West Park in Ulster County, is located on the premises and the Senator said that the bill specifically provides that the grave shall in no way be disturbed and the use and occupation of the premises as a memorial to John Burroughs shall be in no way hindered or impeded by the use.

Uses Hand First Time

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. John Connally on Friday used his right hand to write his signature for the first time since he was wounded Nov. 22.

"His wrist is still extremely stiff but he has good movement of the hand itself," his office said.

Connally was critically wounded by the same sniper who shot and killed President John F. Kennedy while the pair sat in a motorcade with their wives in Dallas.

Firm Names Agent

George Knaust Jr., P.O. Box 108, Lake Katrine, recently was appointed a representative for the Farmers and Traders Life Insurance Co., Syracuse, it was announced by Dale E. Miller, C.L.U. superintendent of the agencies. Knaust will represent the company in all lines of life, accident and health insurance in Kingston and vicinity. He is associated with the Henry M. Pitcher Agency, Millerton.

Dear Abby . . . You're Out of Order!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My complaint concerns the husband of my next door neighbor. He is an able-bodied, intelligent, recently-retired man who seems content to spend his days snoozing on the sofa, reading, or watching TV. His wife is a good friend of mine. When I drop in to have a chat with her, we have a cozy threesome. Nice? Why can't a man understand that his wife needs a little privacy in her own home? Surely there must be something more challenging for a man to do than to sit and wait to be called to his meals three times a day! My husband is approaching retirement age, and if this is retirement — deliver me!

MRS. G.

DEAR MRS. G.: The retired gentleman would probably be glad to "deliver" you to your own home. You are invading HIS home, and he's earned the right to snooze or read or do whatever he pleases in it. If his wife objected to her lack of privacy, she would go to your house for the visits.

DEAR ABBY: I borrowed six eggs from a neighbor. Two of them were rotten. I returned four eggs to her and told her that two of the ones she gave me were no good. She said I borrowed six eggs, not four, and I still owe her two eggs. What do you think?

WAITING FOR ADVICE

DEAR WAITING: Be a good egg and give her two more.

DEAR ABBY: I am so upset I could bawl! My daughter just received a book for her 12th birthday from my sister, who is a 33-year-old school teacher and should have known better. This book is titled, "What Is Happening to Me?" It is a facts-of-life-type book for boys and girls between the ages of 12 to 15. I planned to tell my daughter what I felt she should know when I thought she was ready for it. Now I don't know whether I should let her read this book or not. Don't you think my sister had a nerve sending my daughter a book like that without asking me first? What should I do about it?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Simmer down and read the book. If you think your daughter should read it — let her. I have read the book and regard it highly. I am sure your sister meant well.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST MY FATHER." Do not despair. You still have your Father in heaven.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

As I remember, in 1952 Kingston had had some sort of 300th anniversary, yet items of the 250th anniversary of 1908 seem to be turning up now and again. Sgt. Bernard Fowler, of the Kingston Police department just showed me a very interesting little souvenir. It is a badge with an eagle on top. On this metal gold-colored badge is imprinted very clearly the following: "250th Anniversary settlement of Kingston, May 30-31-June 1st, 1908." There is a log cabin decoration in the middle. No doubt some 50 years hence, another celebration will be planned. I wonder what date will be used.

I received an item from C. D. Green of Fleischmanns. He writes in part: "I read your column in the Freeman. This article is taken from the Catskill Mountain News of August 15, 1963 of Margaretville, N. Y. edition of the 100th anniversary of the town of Middletown, N. Y. Thought you might be interested."

It reads in part: "Transportation following the war between the states to and from Kingston was by stage coach. Henry Edgerton of Delhi opened a stage coach line to Kingston. He used the egg-shaped body, Concord coaches, claimed to be the finest ever built. It was well upholstered, and room for nine persons, drawn by four horses. The coach bodies were suspended on through-braces of two lengths of manifold straps of thickest steer hide, allowing the body to rock fore and aft over the rough roads. There was a large boot on the rear to carry express and baggage."

Those youngsters in our local schools who are so excited about TV westerns should be told about history and travel right here in our midst during and after the Civil War.

The item says that the highway then was in first class condition from Delhi through Andros and Middletown to the top of Pine Hill, now Highmount, then a plank road to Kingston. I can imagine the noise of the horse's hoofs on the wooden planks, and I see four horses were needed to pull the nine-person Concord coach up that Pine Hill.

The item further tells how in March, 1854, 110 years ago, John Burroughs, then 17, rode one of the coaches from Fleischmanns to Olive in Ulster County where he was to teach school. Eight years later Burroughs, while at Olive, wrote the poem, "Waiting," which in time received world-wide distribution, which suggests greater confidence in the ways of nature than those of man. The second verse is given in this item.

I see they further write that it took 16 hours between Delhi and Rondout, some 70 miles. A reduced rate was announced in 1857. The price was $2.75 from Delhi to Kingston, and $3.50 more to New York, a total of $6.25 Delhi to New York. Coach drivers were ordered to run on time. Coaches left Delhi for Rondout at 2 a. m. and reached Rondout in time for the boats. That must have brought shoppers to Rondout.

Cornelius Winne was the proprietor of the Delhi-Rondout stage line in 1862 to 1870, at the same time that Davis Winne was owner of the one track plank road from Pine Hill to Kingston. Cornelius Winne had a hotel in Boiceville, and later operated the Eagle Hotel in Kingston then owned by his brother, Henry Winne. From O. A. Goodsell's 1858 - Kingston - Rondout - Wiltwyck directory, I see the Rondout and Delhi stage "left the Mansion House in Rondout, and the fare was $2.75 each way. Owner of the stage was George F. Von Beck.

Aerialist Survives Fall

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Circus fans saw British aerialist Ann Bowbray, 19, survive a 40-foot fall to a packed dirt floor Friday night.

Doctors said Miss Mowbray, from Blackpool, England, suffered compound fractures of both ankles, broken ribs and an injury to one shoulder. She was reported in fair condition.

She was swinging by a neck collar suspended from a partner's teeth. One of her feet brushed a guy wire and she fell before an audience of 3,000.

Quell Brush Fires

Fire fighter responded to two brush fires Friday night in the city. They were called to the Ups and Downs at 7:43. Less than an hour later they were summoned to a larger blaze at 362 Wilbur Avenue and South Wall Street along the railroad tracks near the Twaalfskill Club. Fire Capt. Harry L. Sills was in charge of firemen at both calls.

Man Suffers Attack

Joseph Reis, 54, of Route 1, Box 323B, Kingston, was taken by Doctors Ambulance to Benedictine Hospital after he suffered a possible stroke about 5 p. m. Friday at the Commanche Club. In another case, Clara Marquardt, 79, of 72 Crane Street, suffered a nose injury in a fall in a doorway at 298 Wall Street. Police investigated both mishaps.

Bicyclist Injured

Robert Nerone, 13, of Lincoln Park Place, said he would see his own doctor after a bicycle he was riding collided with a car Friday night at 418 Foxhall Avenue. Police said Mary F. Stokes, 44, of the Foxhall Avenue address was backing out of a driveway at that location when the youth ran into the rear of her vehicle with the bike.

Good Friday Theft

Yesterday was Good Friday for Christians throughout the world and shades of the "bad thief" lingered after 2,000 years. Police said some $10 was taken from a pamphlet rack at St. Joseph's Church sometime between 10:40 and 11:30 a. m.

26 Attend Annual Services at YMCA

The YMCA tenth annual Communion Service was held Good Friday at 8 a. m. in the Y youth center with 26 men present. The Rev. Reginald T. Edwards conducted the service. Sam Scudder was at the piano as announced by executive secretary Louis H. Schafer.

The men sat around a huge cross constructed on large tables and chairs covered with white and adorned with 12 lighted candles and Easter lilies. A printed format of the service was placed before each communicant. The pastor was at the head of the cross. A bank of palms served as a background with an open Bible placed on a stand in the center. The lighted candles were symbolic of the twelve disciples.

The meditation theme in Quiet Place Apart was aimed directly at the men as the speaker brought out the facts of Christ's sacrifice on the Cross. Christ knew his body would be broken and as he spoke to the disciples he administered communion to them, saying: This communion should be taken by all people for the asking of forgiveness and redemption of sin.

Louis H. Schafer, Y secretary, originated the Kingston YMCA Good Friday Communion Service in 1955 with the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter as the first meditation leader. During the 10 years there have been 10 different Protestant pastors as the leaders and the serving of Holy Communion. There were 26 men present for this 10th service and 10 of them have not missed a service since 1955.

Present were: Mayor John J. Schwenk, Chester A. Baltz Sr., Evan J. Davis, Sherwood Davis, G. Herbert DeKay, Ellis H. Griffith, Rev. Roy A. Hassel, Dr. Dale Lake, Ernest LeFevre, Harry Flowers, Robert C. Murray, William Rylance, Davis Rylance, Sam Scudder, Frank Sharwell, Warren Smith, Fredrick J. Stang, Ralph H. Swarf, A. Theodore Young, H. Irvin Etchells, Lloyd Lawrence, Robert J. Kmiecink and the three Y secretaries, Louis H. Schafer, Leon I. Van Heusen and Charles H. Sims.

Stays Dance Closings

NEW YORK (AP) — Three onetime dime-a-dance places—they now charge a quarter—have gotten an injunction against a city order that was to have put them out of business Friday midnight.

The three Times Square-area establishments — Parisian Ballroom, The Majestic and Honey-moon Lane—stayed open until their regular closing time, 4 a. m., on the strength of the State Supreme Court injunction. Former City License Commissioner Bernard J. O'Connell refused to renew licenses of the three dance halls on the ground they are used "for immoral, lewd and obscene purposes."

The injunction restrains the license department from closing the places until the matter is settled in court.

State Employees Get Boost, Rocky Signs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has signed a bill to raise the take-home pay of state employees by about four per cent by reducing their contributions to their retirement system.

The governor Friday put his signature on the bill, which was part of a package approved by the Legislature. Cost of the package was estimated at $40 million.

The package, which also includes a salary increase, will raise pay by amounts ranging from 8 to 11 per cent.

The bill provides for the state to pay part of the employees' contributions to their pensions.

Behind the glass-faced skyscrapers and broad avenues of Lima, Peru, lie the barrios, shanty towns where squatters lead marginal lives.

Fiji Recovers After Storms, Banana Crop Hit

SUVA, Fiji Islands (AP) — Fiji began recovering today after a five-day onslaught of tropical storms that devastated much of the main island of Viti Levu.

Damage is estimated at more than $1.2 million. Three deaths were reported, two by drowning and one by electrocution.

Eighty per cent of the banana crop was wiped out, and there was extensive damage to the sugar industry.

Floods have abated over most of the island and most of the 2,000 residents evacuated when three rivers overflowed their banks have returned to their homes. Gifts of money, clothing and food poured into the islands from the United States, the United Kingdom and New Zealand.

Barclay Heights

The Barclay Heights unit held its monthly meeting on March 19 at the home of Mrs. Bernard Leszko.

A letter from the county office pertinent to sending needy 4-H Club members to summer camp was read by Mrs. Charles Scala. A collection will be taken up at the next meeting.

The unit has purchased snack trays for use at its meetings and work projects. The chairman thanked the individual members who had generously offered the use of their trays since the unit was formed.

Mrs. William McClain and Mrs. John Vozdick volunteered to serve on the telephone committee to replace members who have left the unit.

The next lesson for the "Sewing Center" project, being taught by Mrs. McClain, will be given at her home on April 9.

Anyone interested in the project "ABC's Decorating—Backgrounds" should contact Mrs. Scala.

The unit by-laws were reviewed and revised, as necessary. Mrs. John Roberts and Mrs. Edward Carey volunteered to compile the notes and submit them to the chairman to be typewritten.

A nominating committee, comprised of the Mmes. Edward Carey, Raymond Greenfield, and Frank Leone, was selected to submit a slate of officers to be installed in September 1964. The slate will be presented at the April meeting.

A Saugerties store window has been obtained to display the projects completed by the unit during the past year. This exhibit is planned in connection with Achievement Week, conducted by the County Extension Service.

Volunteers for this project are the Mmes. Charles Newcomb, Charles Scala, John Vozdick, John Welton and Luther Wehr. Mrs. Daniel Murphy will make the arrangements for the annual banquet in June with the assistance of the Mmes. Egbert

Kerr, Bernard Leszko, and John Roberts.

The topic, "What to do until the Doctor comes" was given by Mrs. Ramon Parenti. She emphasized the importance of keeping a complete health record on each member of the family and itemized the necessary information. Literature was distributed; among it was a descriptive list of medical supplies that should be kept in the home and or taken on camping trips. The list was examined and discussed.

Use bleach with care, Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, points out in the following article:

Careless bleaching is responsible for millions of dollars of damage to laundered articles each year. Sometimes the damage is gradual, sometimes holes appear at once. Usually too much bleach is used, or it is too concentrated when it reaches the article. Damage may be due to using the wrong bleach for the particular fabric or the kind of finish.

There are two different types of bleaches—chlorine and peroxy. Avoid chlorine bleaches for silk, wool, resin finishes, and any dye colors you think might be damaged.

The peroxy type bleaches are safe for all fibers, resin finishes, and colors except at high concentration. However, the peroxy type bleaches are effective only in hot water while the chlorine types are effective in any temperature water.

For safe and effective bleaching, select the bleach that will be suitable for the fiber, color and finish of the clothes and for the water temperature. Measure the correct amount of bleach recommended on the package. Be sure to dilute with the recommended quantity of water before adding the solution to the washer.

Add diluted bleach in the wash cycle, not in the rinse cycle. If chlorine bleach is used, allow several minutes for the optical brightener in the detergent to become attached to the fabric before adding the chlorine bleach.

If peroxy bleach is used, no delay is necessary.

When iron is present in the water supply, the use of a chlorine bleach may intensify the problem of discoloration. Fibers may turn pink or yellow. The addition of a non-precipitating water softener in the wash water before a chlorine bleach is added will prevent the iron from causing trouble unless the amount of iron is excessive.

If bleach is not removed completely by rinsing, it tends to lower the temperature at which fabrics will scorch in a dryer or during ironing.

4-H Club News

Tractor Program Is Concluded

Fifteen 4-H and FFA members have recently completed the first year tractor program held in the Wallkill area.

The tractor project was conducted in four sessions, two each at the garage of Vincent Edmunds, Bruynswick Road and the Valley Farm Supply Company, Wallkill. Each member to complete the project had to attend three out of four meetings and complete a tractor manual.

Instructors for the program were: Don Callen and Walter Tutill of the Valley Farm Supply; Vincent Edmunds; and Lowell Saunders, Vo-Ag teacher at Wallkill.

According to Carlton Conklin, 4-H Club agent, the following enrolled in the course: Diane, Ruth and Dan Campbell, New Paltz; Robert Clinch, Douglas McCord, Gardiner; Jack and Mark Lasouska, Eddie and James Malloy, Howard Upright, Richard Hagen, Harry Gerham, Bruce McCord and Henry Van Houten, Wallkill; William Engle, Highland.

Horse Field Day Held

Fifty-one counties registered more than 250 horse breeders, 700 4-H members and 300 volunteer 4-H leaders at the Cornell Horse Field Day, held March 21. According to County 4-H Club Agent Carlton M. Conklin, Ulster County 4-H leaders and members pronounced the Cornell Horse Clinic the finest and most instructive of any previously offered.

Featured on the program was instruction in judging horses. Other equally popular events included exhibits in parasite control and corrective shoeing, demonstrations in Western equitation, showing at the halter, horsemanship and the viewing of two horse films. More than 300 people remained on the campus for the horseman's dinner and to witness a thrilling polo match between Cornell and University of Virginia which Cornell won.

Arthur Heidamp, Jean Gaffney, Diane Rowe, Jean Herdman and Diane Gaffney of the Kingston 4-H Flying Horseman attended this event.

After a heavy snow there is usually an open place around each tree. This is due to the fact that the trunk of the tree reflects sunlight and melts the snow. As a rule the temperature of snow itself is several degrees higher than the surrounding atmosphere. When the temperature of the air is below freezing the temperature of snow on the ground is generally from three to four degrees warmer than the air over it. Snow is composed of about nine-tenths air and only one-tenth water. A blanket of snow on unfrozen land—often called "the poor man's manure"—protects crops from winter kill by preventing the warmth of the ground from escaping.

St. Mary's Cage Fortunes Rise

By CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

Back in 1957, St. Mary's parish reorganized a limited CYO basketball program with 30 participants. It contributed a Tyro, Jayvee and Junior team to the county CYO leagues.

In the 1963-64 season just completed, St. Mary's established all-time records in participation and number of games played. More than 80 boys were in basketball programs and they played a fantastic 175-game schedule.

This is a brilliant success story without parallel in area junior athletic organization, supervision and competition. It is an example of what a group of dedicated adults and interested youngsters can do when the motivation is there.

St. Mary's program had both quantity and quality. It corralled three county CYO championships. The Juniors won the Upstate CYO title and the Jayvees were runners-up in their division. The Juniors captured the Beacon Invitational title.

A crack all-star combine was runners-up in the St. Anne's of Nyack tournament and third in the Lourdes tournament.

Three Players Honored

Three of St. Mary's finest players—Vince Fisher, Bruce Ackert and Gregg Rios—won Most Valuable Player Awards in one tournament or another.

The 175-game total was broken down as follows: Tyro I, 23 games; Tyro II, 17; Tyro III, 18; Tyro IV, 15; Jayvee I, 19; Jayvee II, 14; Varsity, 17; Juniors, 28; All Stars (combination of Jayvee and Varsity), 12; and Intermural, 12.

Twelve adults contributed their time, effort and skills to this magnificent basketball movement. The list included Don Hastings, Bill Whitney, Frank Caselino, George Schoonmaker, Joe Stenson, Joseph Bouchard, Gregg Lyons, George Philip, Don Kiernan, Russ Maurer and Joe Sullivan. Assisting these coaches were Bill Tomasek, Vito Romano, John Hannigan and Mike Cronin.

Sullivan Outstanding

While it is difficult to single out any one member of the committee for superior performance, special mention must be made of John Sullivan. Not only did he perform the time consuming job of basketball director for the whole parish, but his excellent reporting of the activities made the community completely conscious of St. Mary's basketball this season.

In addition to the regular schedule, the parish basketball committee above for the third straight year conducted a 16-team holiday tournament during the Christmas recess period. Since the close of the 1963-64 season, an intermural league has been operated for Tyro and Jayvee candidates. Four teams are playing in this league.

The coaches also sponsored the annual trip to Madison Square Garden for a New York Knicks game.

In Other Fields

Activities of the committee listed above extends far beyond the basketball realm. It also offers organized competition in track and cross country and this spring will launch a baseball program for the first time in four years. It will be beamed at 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th graders in an intermural schedule with a limited number of outside games.

St. Mary's track team will participate in the annual CYO track meet in May. It will also compete in the Optimist Club track meet in Newburgh and the Poughkeepsie Neighborhood Service Organization meet in Poughkeepsie.

The 1963-64 season will be climaxed by the annual spring banquet some time in April. Championship trophies and individual awards will be awarded and parents and friends will assemble to pay homage to what has been a truly remarkable basketball season for St. Mary's parish.

Giants Want Snider To Bolster Hitting

Olson Decisions Wayne Thornton

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Carl Bobo Olson, just as bald as nine years ago when he was middleweight champion, could be in line for his second shot at the light-heavyweight crown.

The 35-year-old Olson looked good in pounding out a split decision Friday night over Irish Wayne Thornton in a televised 10-round fight from Kezar Pavilion in San Francisco.

After the bout, promoter Art Benjamin talked about matching the Hawaiian-born veteran against the winner of the title fight April 10 between champion Willie Pastrano and Greg Ralala.

"I'm going all out trying to get a title fight for Olson in San Francisco," declared Benjamin. Olson used his experience and quick combinations to defeat Thornton, the 24-year-old fifth ranked light heavy from Fresno, Calif. Thornton was stunned in the fifth, seventh and 10th by shots to the head.

Referee Vern Bybee agreed with The Associated Press in scoring it 7-3 for Olson, sixth-ranked light heavy by the World Boxing Association. Judge Jack Downey scored 6-3 and Judge Bob Mitchell had it 5-5, which surprised most of the 3,200 present and Olson, whose eyes misted when he learned he had won.

Hook Has Trouble Winning With Mets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Jay Hook of the New York Mets has mastered the theory of propelling a rocket millions of miles but he still has not mastered the technique of propelling a baseball 60 feet.

In his manner, Manager Casey Stengel says it this way: "His pitches just don't go where his mind wants them to go."

In his manner, Hook says: "It's my lack of positive concentration."

Whichever is more accurate, the undeniable fact is that Hook, a 27-year-old right-hander with all the talent needed to win in the majors, has a record of 29-61 for seven seasons. In two seasons with the Mets, Hook has posted 8-19 and 4-14 records.

An erudite student of gas dynamics and rocket propulsion who is working on a masters degree at Northwestern, Hook speaks frankly of his problem. "I've been guilty of two things," said Hook, "inconsistency and negative thinking. I have to work on positive concentration."

"Suppose," he continued, "I'm pitching to a batter who hit a low outside pitch out of the park on me the last time. I can't say to myself I won't put the ball there again. That's negative thinking. I've got to concentrate on getting it low and away if that's where I want it. That's the mental part of it," he added. "The actual pitching of the ball breaks down into getting good stuff on the pitch, then getting the pitch to the right spot. You should be able to do both. I've been caught trying to be too careful. That doesn't help either."

The coaches also sponsored the annual trip to Madison Square Garden for a New York Knicks game.

Activities of the committee listed above extends far beyond the basketball realm. It also offers organized competition in track and cross country and this spring will launch a baseball program for the first time in four years. SAN FRANCISCO—Carl (Bobo) Olson, 176, Honolulu, outpointed Wayne Thornton, 176, Fresno, Calif., 10.

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke Snider apparently is the left-handed slugger the San Francisco Giants figure will bring the National League pennant back to Candlestick Park this season.

The 1962 NL champions who dropped to third place in 1963 Friday were reported to have started negotiations with the New York Mets in an effort to get Snider.

The Duke, one of the few active major leaguers with more than 200 homers to his credit and now in the twilight of his baseball career, was sold to the Mets by the Los Angeles Dodgers a year ago.

The Giants need a left-handed pinch hitter who can hit the long ball to replace the southpaw hitting of catcher Ed Bailey traded to Milwaukee during the off-season. And the 37-year-old Snider still is dangerous at the plate as evidenced by his 14 homers, three triples and eight doubles for the Mets last season.

What sort of a deal the Giants offered the Mets for Snider was not known and there was no immediate reaction from the New York club.

Raps Homer

The Duke, starting his 18th year in the majors, wallowed a home run off Robin Roberts at Miami, Fla. Friday night in one of two exhibition games played on Good Friday.

The homer helped the Mets take a 2-0 lead, but they eventually lost 7-2 to Baltimore when the Orioles came up with five runs in the eighth inning. In the other game, the Houston Colts scored five runs in the first inning and beat Kansas City 6-4 at Daytona Beach.

Baltimore catcher Dick Brown led the Oriole attack with three hits—a homer, double and a two-run single in the decisive eighth-to back up hitless relief pitching by Harvey Haddix and Dick Hall over the last four innings.

Houston's quick five runs came on Eddie Kasko's lead-off homer, two walks and the bases loaded by Bob Anderson and a single by pitcher Hal Woodeshoff. The game was called after eight innings because of darkness.

Both series go the full five games, the decisive contests will be played at Cincinnati Sunday and at St. Louis Monday.

Robertson, who bruised his right forearm, and Lucas, who suffered a back injury during Tuesday's defeat at Philadelphia but played the following night when the Royals won 10-8. Both are with the team today. But, whereas Robertson is expected to play, Lucas' status is doubtful. The rookie star was in for only eight minutes in Wednesday's victory.

Warn of Toy Duckling

DETROIT (AP)—Federal and Michigan state health officials have warned against an imported toy duckling appearing in the Easter trade.

The federal Food and Drug Administration and the city Health Department ordered the item removed from store shelves.

The city health commissioner, Dr. George P. Anderson, said the toys, imported from Japan, are from actual ducklings killed when they were about two weeks old, then skinned and stuffed with cotton waste treated with a chemical used as a soil fungicide.

Anderson said the chemical, if ingested, causes vomiting and acts on the nervous system, causing difficulty in breathing and possible convulsions.

Soviets Suppress All Religions in Varying Degrees

NEW YORK (AP)—A privately backed radio station that broadcasts freedom messages to the Soviet Union, reports that Soviet suppression of religion has sharply reduced the number of churches open to worshippers of all faiths.

Radio Liberty, which identifies itself as a "Voice of Freedom" station, says information from behind the Iron Curtain indicates Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be more severe than his predecessors in the campaign to suppress religion.

In a report, Radio Liberty states that the Soviet war against religion, begun after the October 1917 revolution, was relentlessly waged by ex-Premier Josef Stalin. During the bleak days of World War II, however, the Russian Orthodox Church helped collect money for the war effort and this influenced Stalin to exercise a more tolerant attitude toward religion inside the Soviet Union, according to the report.

Radio Liberty claims that when Khrushchev gained power, suppression of religion resumed. Commenting on the apparent paradox involved in sending Russian Orthodox delegates to the Ecumenical Council in Rome, Radio Liberty declared:

"The fact is that the atheistic Soviet regime persecutes religious believers while at the same time using their leaders for purposes of foreign policy imagery."

"It is significant that present-day religious persecution in the Soviet Union affects all faiths—Christian, Jewish, Moslem and others. Actually, the Soviets put religious groups in two classifications: Those that are recognized by the regime (Orthodox Church, Baptists, Moslems) and those that are not and hence considered illegal, Catholic, Jewish, Lutheran. But both classifications are under Communist fire. It is just a matter of degree."

Corn, Dry Beans Plantings to Be Increased in N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York State's farmers this year plan to increase their planting of corn by about 20,000 acres, and dry beans by about 9,000 acres over last year's.

But acreage totals for other crops probably will be about the same as last year's, the New York Crop Reporting Service said Thursday. In 1963, the acreage for all harvest crops planted in the state totaled 4.7 million acres.

The nation's total acreage for all harvest crops probably will remain close to last year's level, the report said. In 1963, about 292.5 million acres were seeded for harvest in the United States.

Red Satellite Burns

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A Soviet satellite burned up between the Great Lakes and the northeastern Canadian coast Thursday night, according to calculations of a North American Air Defense Command agency.

A spokesman for the space detection and tracking system of NORAD said Friday it is "entirely possible" that fragments of Cosmos 23 fell in middle Ontario, northern Quebec and the Atlantic Ocean.

The satellite was launched Dec. 13.

Beyond The Tomb

is the assurance that life is more than a battle for survival.
Wars occur, truth is degraded, hopes are destroyed and yet something else is happening:
this is the assurance that there is a life and truth which cannot be destroyed.

EASTER

is the knowledge that God is always dealing with our situation. Just when we think that the tombs are permanent, there is the rush of new life.
Just when we had centered all of our attention on ourselves and our own acts, His reality astonishes us with His presence.

EASTER

is this assurance of new meanings for our present, because there is Reality at the end of the road.

Business Week in Review

Week in Business
By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The economy is winding up the first quarter of 1964 on a higher note than it began the year.

The consensus seems to be that it is headed still higher. Steel production has climbed to a nine-month high.

Best Ever: President
Automobile production and sales are booming.

Construction contracts continue to soap.

The stock market has spurred to historic peaks.

President Johnson said during the week: "More Americans are more prosperous than at any time in history."

The year started out with predictions that business would be good at least during the first six months. Now the indications are that the climb has farther to go.

A big factor has been anticipation and realization of the income tax cut enacted by Congress.

One of its first concrete benefits was its help in boosting Easter sales to a record, up an estimated 5 per cent over last year.

Another government move to bolster the economy—an increase in depreciation allowances—began to show its effects in the first quarter. Corporations boosted their outlays for new plant and equipment. General Motors Corp. will spend $2 billion on expansion in 1964 and 1965.

Steel production during the week reached the highest level since last June with mills turning out 2,362,000 tons of ingots, up 2 per cent from the previous week.

Record Car Output Looms

Shipments for the first quarter were estimated at 20 million tons, an increase of 10 per cent over the like period last year.

The two-millionth passenger car of 1964 rolled off assembly lines during the week. Producers were talking about the likelihood of a record eight-million-car year.

Last year sales totaled 7.7 million.

Production during the week was estimated at 166,900 cars, up from 164,807 the previous week and 159,504 a year ago.

Sales for the March 1-20 period totaled 414,529 cars, a substantial gain over the 387,426 for the like period a year earlier.

Construction contracts in February totaled $3,201,304,000, up 10 per cent from $2,917,263,000 in February 1963. The increase was paced by a 17 per cent rise on contracts for new residential buildings.

President Johnson made his assessment of the economy in an address to the national legislative conference of the AFL-CIO building and construction trades.

In the past year, he said, these records have been set: 70 million jobs; national production over $600 billion; more than 1.6 million new homes; new construction over $60 billion.

"And by all these measures," he said, "our prosperity continues to grow. In new construction, we should exceed $65 billion this year. The growth rate of our economy should be better than 6 per cent—about double the rate of the last decade. Our economy was never stronger, never better."

However, Johnson said this is not good enough "because the prosperity of which I speak is not being shared by all Americans."

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, March 28 1964. There are 278 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1814, the American frigate Essex surrendered to the British at Valparaiso, Chile. For 17 months in the War of 1812, the Essex had ranged the Pacific, maintaining herself on captured British supplies and had distinguished herself in several battles.

On this date:
In 1483, the Italian painter, Raphael, was born.

In 1942, Allied commando forces raided St. Nazaire, France.

In 1943, the British 8th Army broke the Mareth Line in Tunisia.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the invasion of Cebu, in the heart of the Philippines.

Ten years ago—Four crewmen were killed in a boiler explosion on the British troopship Empire Windrush northwest of Algiers.

Five years ago—The State Department accused Red China of barbarous intervention in converting Tibetan institutions to Communist ends.

One year ago—The State Department announced that two unidentified jet planes had fired several shots at the U.S. merchant ship Floridian in the international waters off Cuba.

Award $45 Package To Airlines Workers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An arbitration board has agreed on after a 24-hour strike last month by members of the Air Lines Employees Association. The walkout was called when negotiations broke down.

The wage package, made retroactive to May 1963, will extend to the end of the contract period in May 1966.

50th Easter Sermon

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. William Frey has been pastor of the same Lutheran Church for half a century and Sunday he will preach his 50th Easter sermon.

The man who first met the Rev. Mr. Frey when he came to Peace Lutheran Church at nearby Arnheim in 1914 said he will be in the congregation to hear the sermon.

George Wright, owner of a general store, said he has heard all 49 previous Easter messages "and hopes to hear many more."

NBC to Re-Do Sound System For Andy's Show

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If Andy Williams looked harried, it was because he had just spent his lunch period with his tax men. "Sometimes at this time of year," he sighed, munching on a hamburger in his office afterward, "you wonder if it's all worth it. You end up with so little."

That appeared to be merely fiscal fatigue, because later he admitted that he would be willing to perform his work for nothing. His work is singing, and it's a job he does very well. So well that NBC wanted him to sing on 26 shows next season, against this season's 12.

"I didn't want to," he remarked, "but NBC told me they had no spot to put specials next season. In fact they said it was 26 shows or nothing. I accepted."

It wasn't quite as cut and dried as that. Andy exacted certain benefits, some of them more than fringe.

"NBC agreed to re-do the entire sound system in our studio at Burbank," he said. "It's a job that may cost around $600,000, and I think it's worth it. We just can't get the same quality in sound that you can get in a recording studio. I think the improvement in sound will be noticed by enough people to make a difference in the size of our audience."

Other concessions include better office space for Andy's growing organization and an earlier time slot—Monday at 8. "I think that's important too," he remarked. "In traveling around the country I've had lots of people tell me they were sorry their children couldn't stay up until 10 to see my show. I know we can get a better rating if we can get to that younger audience."

Five Men Testing Life-Support for FutureSpaceDays

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—For 25 days, five men have been locked in a windowless L-shaped box, eating freeze-dried food, breathing the same air over-and-over, and drinking water reclaimed from wastes.

The test of life-support systems, and the men themselves, for a future space station or moon base will end April 1.

The Boeing Co. is conducting the experiment for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It is described as the first ever tried in this country providing full support for space travel.

With five days to go, the men were reported in good spirits and health. Only Roger Barnicki, 28, the crew commander, has lost any weight—down six pounds from the 228 he had weighed.

Three of the five are married — Barnicki, an X15 personnel equipment specialist from NASA's Flight Research Center, Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.; Navy Lt. Cmdr. Donald E. Robinson, 33, medical officer, from Pensacola, Fla.; and Raylan Walker, 36, of Seattle, a Boeing employee. The single men are Paul Trush, 26, and Warren Swenson, 26, also from Boeing.

His son, Whitney, 11, received bruises of the right eye. Both were treated at the New Paltz Medical Center.
